DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The proposed drawing correction and/or the proposed substitute sheets of drawings, filed on November 14, 2002 have been disapproved because they introduce new matter into the drawings. 37 CFR 1.121(a)(6) states that no amendment may introduce new matter into the disclosure of an application. The original disclosure does not support the showing of "upper segments 33".

Specification

2. The amendment filed November 14, 2002 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132 states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: upper segments 33.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter in the reply to this Office Action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. Claims 1-9 and 19-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The "upper segments 33" were not presented in the original disclosure in the Specification, drawings, and claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

6. Claims 1-9 and 19-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hand et al (#5,902,011) in view of Nissen.

Art Unit: 3636

Hand et al (#5,902,011) show an article of furniture (210) comprising a support (212) having a support surface having an upper segment (270) and a lower segment (241), a plurality of air bladders (14), at least one fluid line coupling the air bladders together, and a single valve (34) fluidly coupled with at least one fluid line. However, Hand et al do not disclose that the air bladder to have an expandable foam.

Nissen teaches a seat cushion comprising an open-celled compressible foam material. The cushion is self-inflating when the valve is open. An user can deflate the cushion and then close the valve to prevent further inflation of the cushion. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the bladders of Hand et al by enabling the bladders to have an expanded foam material to be self-inflating by an open valve, and then closing the valve to prevent further inflation as taught by Nissen. This modification would facilitate the process of inflating and deflating the bladders to accommodate an user's back.

With claims 19 and 21, the support surface has a pocket (273), wherein the lower segment via member (278) is removably inserted into the pocket.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1-9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Art Unit: 3636

Remarks

The examiner has reviewed and considered the applicant's comments in the Amendment, filed on November 14, 2002. The applicant's amendment has necessitated the new grounds of rejection as presented in this Office action. Claims 1-9 and 19-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hand et al (#5,902,011) in view of Nissen. The added claim limitation to claim 1 has been addressed above with new claims 19-21.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
